Laser Safety Consultants

Welcome to Bioptica.

If you work with lasers, whether as a user of laser equipment or as a manufacturer of laser products, Bioptica can help you to understand laser safety issues and to comply with the relevant laser safety requirements.

- We provide high-quality laser safety training courses covering all areas of laser use, ranging from basic laser safety awareness courses to advanced in-depth training.
- We provide help to laser users as a certificated Laser Protection Adviser \(LPA\), carrying out risk assessments and laser safety audits of facilities in order to determine the necessary protective measures and safety procedures.
- We provide support with laser product compliance, helping manufacturers of laser equipment to deal with classification issues and to meet relevant European, US and international laser safety requirements.

We invite you to explore our website to learn more about laser safety and to find out how we can help.
