

Optical Coating

- About Us
- Microelectronic Parts
- Specialized Coating
- Solving Coating
- Optical Coating
- Glass Technology
- Silvac
- Siltor
- Contact Us

Curtis has long employed thin film techniques for optical purposes. Representative applications are neutral density filters, reflective and anti-reflective coatings. The filters find use in connection with specialized TV cameras, while the reflective/anti-reflective surfaces, which can be responsive in the visible, IR or UV ranges, are employed in connection with analytic equipment and other applications.

